Application for Front-End Development Internship

My name is Maksym Dramaretskyi, and I would like to apply for an internship position as a intern Front-End Developer at your company. I am an aspiring developer with experience in creating responsive and visually engaging web projects. My background in UI/UX design helps me better understand the connection between interface aesthetics and clean, functional code.

Since 2022, I've been on my path in design and front-end development, working with technologies such as HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, alongside UI/UX design. As a freelancer, I have developed mobile app designs, web interfaces, and acted as a project manager for a platform focused on targeted advertising and Telegram channel sales. These experiences gave me valuable insight into teamwork, communication, and managing projects from idea to implementation.

I have completed several courses at Hillel IT School (Front-End Basic, UI/UX, Motion Design) and I'm currently enrolled at Gløde Programming in Norway, where I am learning modern web development practices. In addition, I'm taking an advanced front-end course focused on React, Redux, TypeScript, Node.js, and working with REST APIs, as well as gaining foundational skills in testing and code optimization.

Outside of work, I actively study Norwegian and English, participate in volunteer activities (such as Knarvik Mila 2024), and enjoy spending time in nature, fishing, and finding inspiration outdoors.

I am organized, highly motivated, and eager to keep learning. I believe I can be a valuable contributor to your team and would be excited to grow as a developer while working on projects that bring real value to users.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Maksym Dramaretskyi
